SHOT THROUT THE TURODY.

Lewis Price of Nephi Was Murdered.

Was Evidently Placed Against the Fire While Yet Alive and Managed to Crawl Away-A Man Named Jacobson Arrested for the Crime-Had Quarreled with the Bey and His Father.

Nephi, Utah, Sept. 30.-Nothing for years has caused so much excitement and cast such a shade of gloom over the city of Nephi as the cold-blooded murder of Lewis Price on last Friday. Lewis's father, Charles Price, is a sheep ranchman. Lewis, a boy of 16, left home Friday morning for the camp Body of a Prohibitionist's Wife is in the canyon four miles east of town, to move the camp some distance to where the man was who had charge of the sheep herd.

The herder, without provisions, waited until Saturday morning, when, hungry and uneasy about the boy's failure come, he set out in search of him. Falling to find him, late Saturday night he reported to the paternal roof that Level had not come with the provisions — could not be found. A posse of me — fed in search, and found him early Sunday about a quarter of a mile from the old camp.

The men hastened to the city and Tim Foote, a justice, acting as Coroner, with a Coroner's jury, went out to hold an inquest over the body. On arriving there, and with only a casual investigation, they said that the burro had fallen on him and that it was not necessary to hold an inquest. They gathered him up and brought him home. A wound was discovered on him and they supposed a stick had passed through his body, but did not investigate it enough to ascertain whether it was a stick or a gun wound. At home, on dressing the body, it was soon determined that it was not a wound caused by a stick, and Dr. Miner was summoned, who found that death was caused by a 4t-caliber ball. The ball entered just above the cross of and in the fork of the suspenders, shearing one of the suspenders, ranging downward and passing out just below and to the right of the navel.

The murderer built a fire by the body to destroy it and cover up his deed. The body was burned in several places and quite a bit where the built passed out. However, there was life chough for the boy to crawl away from the fire and avoid any severe burns. There is no telling how long he suffered, as it was possible for him to linger for a day or two.

The bey's father is tying very low with spond fever. On Saturday the boy's grandfather came in to see how his son, Charles Price, was getting along, and said, "Lewis is late getting home."

The father said, "I have no Lewis; he will never come home alive." At this The men hastened to the city and Tim Foote, a justice, acting as Coro-

The father said, "I have no Lewis; he will never come home alive." At this time he had not yet heard that his boy had not gotten around to the herder. All day Saturday he felt that Lewis was not among the living. The bereaved family are wild with grief. Who did it? Who could have the heart to shoot down in cold blood one of Nephi's best and quietest boys? The charge is laid at the door of one Jacobson, who had been working for Charles Price, and with whom Mr. Price and the boy some time previous Charles Frice, and with whom all Price and the boy some time previous had had some words. A man's track about the body and the tracks of a horse with three shoes have been traced to the hut where this man was leadening.

Tomorrow the grave wherein is thought to repose the body of a male insane patient who died in the asylum on December 31, 1894, will be opened, and the health officers, in the light of developments brought forth today, expect to find the box empty.

In any event, the investigation will be pushed to a point where it will be absolutely ascertained to what extent the horrible traffic was carried on.

Taken from the Grave.

Tuckahoe, N. J., Sept. 30.—Late last night a number of young men discovered the corpse of a woman lying by the side of an open grave in the cemetery. On investigation it was found to be the body of Mrs. Mary Wallace, the decensed wife of a well known prohibitionist of this place. The appearance of the coffin showed that it had been roughly handled, and the body had been subjected so rough usage also. A ring was missing from one of the fingers. Taken from the Grave.

The news of the discovery spread like The news of the discovery spread like wildire, and the town was soon in a ferment of excitoment. An effort was made to learn the identity of the vandals, but without success. It is suspected that it is the work of revenge on the part of adherents of the liquor party, because of the attitude of the dead woman's husband on that questions.

It is claimed by them that the girl will be found in a few days. The letter threatens the mother with severe punishment for the trouble she has caused Father Wagner, and says if she had not made the accusations the girl would have Wagner, and says if she had not made the accusations the girl would have been at her home before this time. The police claim they have found the writer of the letter and will try to force a confession from him. The theory that the girl has been sent to Chicago is strengthened by the statement that Father Wagner has friends there. Father Wagner has been almost crazed by the strain upon him. Nothing further has been heard of Dora Kennedy, who disappeared shortly after Maude Steidel was missed, under similar circumstances, and the mystery surrounding her disappearance is as deep as ever.

Unless Great Britain Consents to Arbitration in Venezuela Within

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 1.-The Pioneer-Press tomorrow will say: Moses E. Clapp left for New York tonight to at tend Thursday evening a hastily-ar ranged meeting of the Munoa comranged meeting of the atunoa com-pany, limited, to consider immediate steps to take possession of the terri-tory embraced within the concession from Venezuela. The outcome of the meeting may be possibly fraught with serious results. It is no secret that a portion at least of the territory is in-dispute between Venezuela and Grat Britain, and that the present Govern-ment of the former country would not Britain, and that the present Government of the former country would not be loath to avail itself of the moral, and if necessary physical, good offices of the United States to prevent the encoachment of the latter. It is often said that the grant of the concession was a shrewd stroke of diplomacy of the Venezuelan President, for the purpose of drawing the United States discortly into action to force Great Briskelin to Oswego, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Dr. Mary Walker, who, forty years ago, preached the gospel of dress reform to the women of this country, and who was arrested in many cities for dressing and appearing on the public streets is male attire, is the apostle of a scheme for the bloomer girls. Through lawyer Henry C. Benedict of this city, Dr. Mary has bought a farm containing 135 acres of land several miles west of this city, and promises to form a colony in which the man shall have no part.

Only females who will bind themselves to a life of celibacy while members of the community and to wear bloomers for life, are to be eligible. They will work on the farm in all its details, plant and harvest the crops, dispose of them in market and take care of the stock. The site selected for the colony is in the heart of the finest fruit country in the State of New York.

Eighteen Crafts Reported Ashore—A Schooner's Crew of Eight Men are Drowned-Gale Was Terrific.

Chicago. Sept. 30.—Yesterday's storm on the lakes was one of the most violent and destructive of recent wars. No less than eighteen vessels have been reported stranded at various points, while reports continue to be received of others flying signals of distress. At Milwaukee the schooner "Connor" is iong over-due, and grave fears are felt for her safety. Thirteen persons narrowly escaped drowning when the steam barge "Kershaw" went on the reef at Choclay beach, breaking completely in two.

Five steamers are grounded near Detroit, and the barge "R. J. Penny" went to pieces on the rocks near Sault Ste. Marle. Several vessels lost deck cargoes and others were stripped of all canvas, steering gear, etc. The steamer "Puritan," from Chicago to St. Joseph, Mich., was obliged to put back to port, after making three attempts to land at the latter port. The passengers became panie-stricken and many of them sick. Thus far no loss of life has been reported. Chicago, Sept. 30.—Yesterday's storm

INTIMIDATING THE JURY.

Will be Hung If They Hang Durrant.

An Unexpected Sensation at the Durrant Trial-Further Attempts to Build up Durrant's Alibi-Witnesses Called to Impeach the Pawnbroker—How Durrant Tried to Manufacture Testimony.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.-After gather ing up a few ragged ends of testimony left over from last week, the defens in the Durrant case this morning be gan the building of an alibi for the young medical student from April 4th to April 12th, inclusive. The purpose of the alibi is to impeach the testimony of pawnbroker Oppenheim and W. J. Phillips, who testified that on April 12th Durrant tried to pawn Blanche Lamont's ring at Oppenhelm's store. During the course of the testimony which covered Durrant's movements on April 4th and 5th, a struggle was precipitated by District Attorney Barnes, who again challenged the reliability of a roll-call book at Cooper college. The argument ended in a victory for the defense, so far as the question before the court was concerned, as Judge Murphy sustained an objection to a question propounded by himself to the witness and cut off discussion. The trial began this morning with a sensation which was quite as unexpected to the prosecution as to the defense. Juror I. J. Truman informed the court that last Thursday, during the noon recess of the court, he was approached by H. J. McCoy, general secretary of the Young Men's Chris-tian association, who endeavored to engage him in conversation on the subject of the trial.

"If you hang Durrant," said McCoy to the juror, "we will hang you."

The court said the offense bordered strongly on a crime, and cited McCoy to appear in court at noon on October 3rd and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. R. W. Maitland, the electrician who

R. W. Maitland, the electrician who testified last week with regard to the construction of the sun-burners in Emmanuel church, was the first witness called. The testimony was of the same nature as that given last week, and was intended to show the liability of the escape of gas under excusin conditions.

The assault on pawnbroker Oppenheim's testimony then began. The defense called to the stand four witnesses, by whom it was proposed to test the accuracy of the pawnbroker's memory.

Martin Carcis, William Catheart, P.

J. Neumann and Leonard Everett, members of the National guard and the signal corps to which Durrant belonged, testified that they had taken various articles of jewelry to Oppenheim's store and attempted to pawn them. They described the manner in which they were dressed at the time.
The descriptions in many instances did not correspond with the descriptions given by Oppenheim when he when h was asked to tell how the men who was asked to tell how the men who tried to pawn the articles were dressed. Each of the four witnesses said he had subscribed money to assist in the defense of Durrant.

The next step was to impeach the testimony of David Clark, the witness who assisted attorney Quinlan to fix the date upon which he saw Durrant and Blanche Lamont walking toward Emmanuel church. John Patten, Patrick Mulvaney and M. L. Murphy said that Clark's reputation for truth and integrity was bad. On cross-symptom integrity was bad. On cross-examina don Mulvaney and Murphy said they were prejudiced against Clark from the fact that they had had busine culties with his father. The District Attorney asked that the testimony be tricken out, but the motion was de nied by the court.

DURRANT'S ALIBI. building of Durrant's allbi in

The building of Durrant's allbi in contradiction of the charge made by pawnbroker Oppenheim was begun with the testimony of Dr. A. W. Haihalt, a lecturer at Cooper medical college. Asked if Durrant was present at the lecture given on the morning of April 4th, the doctor referred to the call-book and said that the defendant was recorded as present. On crosswas recorded as present. On cross-examination the doctor said be had no personal knowledge of Durrant's ab-sence or presence. The defense tried to offset this by asking if he could give to offset this by asking if he could give the name of any one of the fifty-one students in the class who attended the lecture on the morning in question. The doctor recalled the names of a dozen students, and said he believed he could remember more if he were given time to think the matter over. The prosecution next attacked the reliability of the roll-call. Before the District Attorney had hardly reached the point of the subject, however, the point of the subject, however, Judge Murphy took a hand in the ex-amination. He asked the witness amination. He asked the withens whether in his experience as an instructor at the college he had known of instances where students had answered at roll-call for other students who were not present. who were not present. fense at ourt was placed in th. having to rule on its The Judge said that wh gent of estion permit the question to be knawered t should come from a proper source answered if ne would sustain the objection for the Then District Attorney Barnes asked Then District Attorney Barnes asked the same question, and the defense in-terposed another objection. the defense attempted to show where the defense attempted to show where the defendant was the next day. Geerge A. Merrill, an instructor at the Lick school of mechanical arts, said that Durrant called upon him at 11 o'clock on the forenoon of April 5th. Asked if Durrant made known the object of his call, the witness replied in the affirmative, but he was not permitted to tell what Durrant had said, THREATENING LETTERS.

THREATENING LETTERS. Before court adjourned attorney Dickinson called the attention of the court to the large number of threatening letters that were being received by himself and attorney Deuprey, and asked that the prors be instructed to turn such letters over to the court should they receive any.

The Judge said he received a great many letters of the same kind.

DAMAGING TO DURRANT.

The Judge said he received a great many letters of the same kind.

DAMAGING TO DURRANT.

What the prosecution believes to be testimony of the most vital importance in the Durrant case has at last been obtained from a student in Cooper college. For months the prosecution and the defense have labored to find some one among the accused student's classimates who could give some definite information regarding the lecture which Dr. Chency delivered on the forenoon of April 3rd. It was impossible to find such a student. None knew definitely that Durrant was there. No one could tell anything which might indicate that Durrant was not there.

At last there has been found a student who can shed definite light upon the subject. Charles A. Dukes, the young man who sat next to Durrant in the lecture-room, will take the witness stand and swear that, after being unable to tell whether or not Durrant was present at the lecture, the accused student asked him as a favor to him to say that he was there, and that he remembered the fact.

Dukes tells this now only with the greatest reluctance. He says he drew the only inference that could reasonably be drawn from the request, which he could not grant. For the sake of his classmate, Dukes decided that he would not speak. He says Durrant wanted him to remember the fatal day and his presence in the lecture-room without any reference to the truth of the facts. "I could not grant his favor." said Dukes, "but I wished to remain silent, as I did not want to hurthis case if I could help it."

PASTOR GIBSON TALKS.

PASTOR GIBSON TALKS.

Now that Rev. George M. Gibson, pastor of Emmanuel church, has virtually been accused by Attorney Deuprey of committing the murders that have made his church notorious, he has seen fit to break the silence which he has maintained ever since the discovery of the crimes.

Rev. Gibson has allowed himself to be interviewed for publication, and the first question asked was:

"What do you think of Mr. Deuprey's speech as an argument in defense of Mr. Durrant?"

"Well, it is a mysjspeech as an argument in defense of Mr. Durrant?"

"Well, it is a myst such a reckless of the speech as not the one he intended to deliver. It resembles the sermon prepared on Sunday morning after the preacher discovered that for various reasons he could not use the one he held worked on for weeks."

"Why did you remain silent so long?"

"Because as a witness I had no right to talk, and I was willing to take my share of newspaper criticism."

"Do you think the situation is changed?"

"Yes: I am virtually accused of the murder. My name is singled out from among all the witnesses and uttered in loud tones to the jury. Mr. Deuprey has declared the fight on. The issue now, according to him, is between W. H. T. Durrant and myself. The speech gives me the right to conclude that now, according to him, is between W. H. T. Durrant and myself. The speech gives me the right to conclude that Durrant concurs in the accusation. He, through his attorney, accuses me of having some connection with the murder of Blanche Lamont. The public must have noticed that I never accused him of such a crime."

Rev. Gibson talked in a sarcastic manner about Deuprey, and when asked what he would do if he were arrested, said ironically that he would send for Deuprey to defend him. "Were you surprised at his charge against you?"

"What is your opinion about the handling of the case?"

"Don't you think they are working."

"Don't you think they are working faithfully "" faithfully?"

"Yes; they are piling up exceptions that are crushing the righteousness out of their case. Every technicality is a curse thrown in the face of the friend they profess to defend. No witness has done so much against W. H. T. Durrant as the actions of his attorneys. I would rather be hanged than saved by such means as Mr. Deuprey and Mr. Dickinson are employing."

Story is Fictitious.

London, Oct, i.—The Spanish Em-bassy here publishes this morning a denial of a statement cabled from the United States to the effect that Score-tary of State Olney has given a warn-ing to the Spanish Government, that unless they had succeeded in suppress-ing the insurrection in Cuba in the next three months the United States cach one if he answered at relicall for Durrant, it would be unfair to cast suspicion on the particular relicall in question by any practice or custom that might have obtained at another time. The court said that it believed the question proper and the evidence sought competent, but for the sake of safety sustained the objection.

With Durrant's whereabouts on the morning of April 4th accounted for,
